Mr. Nobody.

I know a funny little man,
As quiet as a mouse,
Who does the mischief that is done
In everybody's house.
There's no one ever sees his face,
And yet we all agree
That every plate we break was cracked
By Mr. Nobody.

'Tis he who always tears our books,
Who leaves the door ajar;
He pulls the buttons from our shirts,
And scatters pins afar.
That squeaking door will always squeak,
For, prithee, don't you see,
We leave the oilling to be done
By Mr. Nobody.

He puts damp wood upon the fire,
That kettles cannot boil;
His are the feet that bring in mud,
And all the carpets soil.
The papers always are mislaid;
Who had them last, but he?
There's no one tosses them about
But Mr. Nobody.

The finger marks upon the doors
By none of us are made;
We never leave the blinds unclosed,
To let the curtain fade.
The ink we never spill; the boots
That lying round you see
Are not our boots! They all belong
To Mr. Nobody!

ALL ABOUT A LOOKING GLASS.—A few years before his death, the Emperor Nicholas, of Russia, sent a looking glass of rare size and beauty, with an embassy, to the Emperor of China. The looking glass had to be carried all the way from St. Petersburg to Pekin by human hands. Despite the immense distance which had to be performed in this manner, the looking glass safely reached China; but, in the meantime difficulties had broken out between Russia and China, and "The Son of Heven" neither admitted the embassy, nor did he accept the present. A courier was dispatched to St. Petersburg to ask the Emperor what was to be done with the looking glass. The Emperor replied that it should be carried back by the same route and in the same manner. When he gave this order the Grand Duke Michael happened to be present, and offered to lay a wager with the Emperor to the effect that the looking glass would be broken on the way back to St. Petersburg. The Emperor accepted the wager, and the bearers of the looking glass received stringent orders to be as careful as possible. If they should break it on the road they should be severely punished; but if they should bring it back savely they should receive a handsome reward. They carried it back with the most incredible care, forty men bearing it by turns, and safely reached St. Isaac's place in St. Petersburg with it, where the Emperor stood with his brother at the window of his place and laughed at having won his bet. But on the staircase of the palace one of the carriers slipped his foot, fell down, dragging several of his companions after him, and the precious looking glass was broken into a thousand pieces. The Grand Duke, therefore, won his bet.

ONLY.—Only one drop of water at a time that had found its way from the mighty ocean through the Dyke, and was slowly wearing a little channel. Only one drop! Yet if that little child in his morning ramble had not noticed it, who can tell what the terrible results might have been?

Only a stray sunbeam! Yet perchance it had pierced some wretched abode, gladdened some stricken heart, or its golden light found its way through the leafy branches of some wild wood, kissed the moss-covered bank, where the tinny violets grew, and caused shades of beauty to adorn its lovely form.

Only a gentle breeze! But how many aching brows had it fanned, how many hearts cheered by its gentle touch!

Only one stray bullet that pierced the noble soldier boy as he trod the lonely midnight round, faithfully guarding the precious lives intrusted to his keeping, and the life blood slowly ebbed out, and the sunbeams fell on the cold face of the dead.

Only a sentinel! And yet one soul more had passed from its earthly tenement to meet its reward at the hands of a merciful God.

Only a drop of ink! And yet it carried the news of death to anxious ones at home, and caused the tear of anguish to trickle down the furrowed cheek of a widowed mother.

Only a frown! But it left a sad, dreary ache in that child's heart, and the quivering lips and tearful eyes told how keenly he felt it.

Only a smile! But ah! how it cheered the broken heart, engendered a ray of hope and cast a halo of light around the unhappy patient; made a bed-ridden one forget its present agony for a moment as it dwelt in the sunshine of joy, and lived in the warmth of that sunshine.

THE WIFE.—It is astonishing to see how well a man may live on a small income, who has a handy and industrious wife. Some men live and make a far better appearance on six or eight dollars a week than others do on sixteen or eighteen dollars. The man does his part well, but his wife is good for nothing. She will even upbraid her husband for not living in as good style as her neighbor, while the fault is entirely her own. His neighbor has a neat, capable and industrious wife, and that makes the difference. His wife, on the other hand, is a whirlpool, into which a great many silver cups might be thrown, and the appearance of the water would not be changed. No Nicholas, the diver, is there to restore the wasted treasure. It is only an insult for such a woman to talk to her husband about love and devotion.—[Eastern paper.

PROFANITY.—There is a magistrate in a town in Indiana named Helser. A clergyman in the same place was called upon by a young couple, lately, who wished him to join them in the holy bonds of matrimony. He asked the bridegroom (a soldier, by the way) for his marriage license. The man in blue responded that he had been engaged to the girl four years, and thought that would do. The clergyman thought not, and remarked, as the speediest way to obtain a license, "You had better take your girl and go to Helser." "You go to hell yourself!" retorted the angry veteran; and, seizing the bride by the arm, he dragged her from the house, wondering what kind of profane minister he had met with.

IS THE DEMOCRATIC PARTY DEAD.—If the opinions of Radical wiseacres were accepted, the question would most assuredly be answered in the affirmative, for with great unanimity do they contend that it is dead and completely buried from sight. It would be well enough for these visionary prophets to look facts in the face, and to secure a sufficient amount of honesty to allow them to acknowledge them, before they proceed to pass sentence of burial on a party that seems to have, as yet, considerable vitality. It will do them no more than temporary benefit to flatter themselves that hereafter they are to have no opponent.

The Democratic party will not die. No party when on the aggressive in this country ever died. Democracy occupied that position in the late campaign. It made war on the enemy. It kept him on the defensive. It attacked him at all vulnerable points, and annoyed him everywhere. It carried his works; it destroyed his fortifications; it captured his outposts. Though the Radical party boasts of a splendid victory, the triumph is not so complete as many imagine. The Democracy made enormous gains in the popular branch of the National Legislature; so large that they will be a power there hereafter. The Republicans will not have a majority of two-thirds by which they can pass any law they please. They will have little more than a bare working majority. This gain of power alone may strike the dominant party with dismay. Even they are not so blinded by their passions and prejudices as not to see what this forebodes. They know that it is the fore-runner of their downfall; the precursor of that justice which will as surely sweep them to infamy as that the country will survive. These gains in Congress, and this accession of strength, can hardly be taken as indicative of the decease of the Democracy. Neither is that aggressive spirit with which the campaign was prosecuted by the Democracy, an assurance that the wishes of the Radicals are to be fulfilled. These are the attributes, the acts, the showings of the Democracy, and they do not furnish any evidence that the Democratic party is dead or likely to be. On the contrary, they furnish the most indubitable proof of its strong vitality and tenacity of existence. They show that there is actual, inherent life, that no power of Radicalism can crush.

Democracy will not die. It will go on in its course until it has crushed out the traitorous and revolutionary party; until the Augean stable shall be cleansed; until the money-changers are overthrown, and cast out of the temple of liberty; until peace shall reign, and no more remembrance but to curse shall be had of that leagued band of desperate men who have brought the Nation to the crumbling verge of ruin. When this glorious mission shall have been accomplished, Democracy, like a guardian of the Nation will conduct it onward in its progress to the zenith of prosperity, the people free, peaceful and happy.—[Stockton Gazette.

A COMMON AFFECTATION.—There is a kind of affectation very common among pretty women; and this is the affectation of not knowing that they are pretty, and not recognizing the effect of their beauty upon men. Take a woman with bewildering eyes, say of a maidenly size and shape, and fringed with long lashes that distract you to look at; the creature knows that her eyes are bewildering, as well as she knows that fire burns and that ice melts; she knows the effect of that trick she has with them—the sudden uplifting of the heavy lid, and the swift full gaze that she gives into a man's eyes. She has practiced it often in the glass, and knows to a mathematical nicety the exact height to which the lid must be raised, and the exact fixity of the look and the stirring of men's blood it creates; but if you speak to her of the effect of the trick, she puts on an air of the extremest innocense, and protests her entire ignorance of anything her eyes may say or mean; and if you press her hard she will look you the same for your own benefit, and deny at the very moment of offence. Various other tricks she has with those bewildering eyes of hers, each more perilous than the other to men's peace, and all unsparingly employed, no matter what the result.

CURRENCY AT WHITE PINE.—Of the kind of currency which circulates at White Pine, and the habits of the people, we extract the following from an exchange:

Parties from White Pine tell it as a fact that in the towns in that regian lumps of silver ore are used as a circulating medium, and are found to answer very well in the absence of a sufficiency of coin. Even at the gaming tables ore goes. The kind of ore used is the pure chloride, which is so rich as to be quite malleable. A miner with a sack of this kind of currency under his arm marches up to a faro table, takes out a chunk and plants it on a card, calling its value as he puts it down. For instance, the chunk is supposed to be worth $5; the miner, as he puts down the lump, says: "Five dollars goes." The faro man picks up the piece, looks at it, and if satisfied, says: "Five dollars goes," then wins the lump and throws it into a gunny sack standing behind him.

GROWTH OF WOOL IN THE UNITED STATES.—The Rutland county (Vt.) Journal says: The history of the growth of wool is very curious. Fifty years ago not a pound of the fine wool was grown in the United State, in Great Britain or in any other except Spain. In 1784 a small flock was sent to the Elector of Saxony as a present from the King of Spain, whence the entire product of Saxony wool, now of such immense value. In 1809, during the invasion of Spain by the French, some of the valuable crown flock were sold to raise money. The American Consul, Jarvis, at Lisbon, purchased 1,400 head and sent them to this country. A portion of this pure and unmixed merino flock is still to be found in Vermont at this time. Such was the origin of the immense flock of the fine wool sheep of the United States at the time.

THE clerk who could not afford to marry had a third larger salary than the man by his side, who had a beautiful wife and four children, a well furnished house nearly paid for, vigorous health, a smilling face, and a happy heart. When rallied on the subject he exclaimed, "Married! I cannot afford anything else."

A WORD TO SWEARERS.—A gentleman once heard a laboring man swear dreadfully in the presence of a number of his companions. He told him it was a cowardly thing to swear so in company when he dared not do it by himself. The man said he was not afraid to swear at any time or place.

"I'll give you ten dollars," said the gentleman, "if you will go into the village churchyard at 12 o'clock to-night and swear the same oaths which you have uttered here, when you are alone with your God."

"Agreed," said the man, "'tis an easy way of earning ten dollars."

"Well, you come to me to-morrow and say you have done it and the money is yours."

The time passed on; midnight came. The man went to the grave-yard. It was a night of pitchy darkness. As he entered the grave-yard, not a sound was heard; all was still as death.

Then the gentleman's words, "alone with God" came over him with a wonderful power. The thought of the wickedness he had committed, and what he had come there to do, darted through his mind like a flash of lightning. He trembled at his folly. Afraid to take another step, he fell on his knees and instead of the dreadful oath he came to utter, the earnest cry went up, "God be merciful to me a sinner."

Two of the English princesses went lately into a room where a servant was polishing a stove-grate, and insisted on helping her. After getting possession of the brushes, they polished the woman's face instead of the grate. The servant was ready to sink with confusion, for she could not leave the apartment without encountering Prince Albert. He was astonished to see so dirty an object emerging from his rooms, and inquired the meaning of it. The servant reluctantly told him. It soon reached the ears of the Queen, and she was seen crossing the court, leading the two princesses by the hand, toward the servants' quarters. Her Majesty sought out the woman, made her daughters ask her pardon, and sent them at once to the nearest millinery and dress establishment, to purchase a complete outfit—dress, bonnet, shawl, gloves, etc., and present them to the servant in lieu of the dress they had spoiled. The articles were purchased with their own money, and consequently their supply of it was curtailed materially; but this they said they did not care for in the least—in fact, it rather pleased them than otherwise—it was only asking the woman's pardon they did not like.

HOW TO COURT IN CHURCH.—A young gentleman happening to sit at church in a pew adjoining one in which sat a young lady for whom he conceived a sudden and violent passion, was desirous of entering into a courtship on the spot, but the place not being suitable for an informal declaration, the case suggested the following plan: He politely handed his fair neighbor a Bible opened, with a pin stuck in the following text—Second Epistle of John, verse five—"And now I beseech thee, not as though I wrote a new commandment unto thee, but that which we had from the beginning, that we love one another."

She retuaned it, pointing to the second chapter of Ruth, tenth verse: "Then she fell on her face, and bowed herself to the ground and said to him: 'Why have I found grace in thine eyes, seeing I am a stranger?'"

He returned the book, pointing to the thirteenth verse of the third Epistle of John: "Having many things to write unto you, I would not write with pen and ink, but I trust shortly to come unto you to speak face to face, that your joy may be full."

From the above interview a marriage took place the ensuing week.

IN A BAD WAY.—Would I were a Mormon with four-and-twenty wives, with twice a hundred children, and twice ten human lives: I'd raise me up a kingdom, all of my kith and kin, and make me a little paradise for all that dwelt therein. And is it well, O Brigham Young, or is it rightly done, that you have over forty wives, and I have never one? And is it well your children count above five score and three, and not a single child can trace his virtues down from me? Your'e but an ordinary man, your merits are but small, and what a fractional poor part to each your children fall; while I perchance on two or three my genius could bestow, and thus prove a parent to a Newton—or a Poe. No sewing buttons on for you, no rents are wanting stitches; you have a spouse for everything—one for each pair of breeches; and then, when weary day is over, each evening of your life, you have a home to visit, and a new and blooming wife. My love is boundless as the sea, as certain to endure, enough for four young loving wives I'm feeling very sure; then what a shame, O Brigham Young, you've one for every day, while I in single, sad estate must mourn my life away.

A GRASSHOPPER STORY.—The Montgomery (Iowa) Express tells this grasshopper story: "We met a friend of ours coming into town the other day with a large saw-log on his wagon. Upon expressing some surprise at his being thus engaged at this time of year, he replied, with considerable emphasis: 'The infernal grasshoppers are eating up everything, and I thought it best to save 'em.'"

BIGGER.—"We have possession, and possession is nine points of the law," said a lawyer to his opponent. "And what is the tenth point?" asked the latter. "Disappointment, sir, and that's a deal sight bigger than all the other points put together."

HEARTS.—It is stated by some wiseacre that the heart of a man weighs about nine ounces, that of a woman about eight. As the age increases, a man's heart grows heavier, and the woman's lighter—some girls lose their's at sixteen.

MORE AFRAID.—An argument in favor of enlisting female soldiers may be derived from the sentence of Montarue, that "men are generally more afraid of women than women are of men!"

SMALL POX.—According to the California Medical Gazette there were 260 deaths by small-pox in San Francisco during the months of June, July, August, September and October.

Precautionary Measures.

To those who are exposed to the ravages of the dreaded disease now stealthily extending its lines throughout the State, the disputes of learned professional gentlemen regarding its origin and the places from whence it sprung, are matters of only secondary consideration. The question that every day more earnestly demands the serious attention of the people, is in regard to what measures may be at once adopted which are best calculated to check the progress of the terrible death-dealing plague. In many places, where the people have been stricken down by the malady, either their own negligence, or a want of medical skill among physicians, has enabled the unwelcome and fatal visitor to maintain its hold; and, notwithstanding the repeated warnings that have been sounded abroad, it seems that almost everywhere a criminal neglect has hitherto manifested itself in regard to the adoption of the most simple and acknowledged methods of prevention. While it is true that there is no certain remedy known for the small-pox, it is fully as well established that vaccination, properly administered, has and does greatly mitigate the evil, whatever may be said of exceptional cases. Yet, in the face of this fact, which has been established for years, hundreds of persons exposed to the disease, who, perhaps, never looked into a medical work, are found wisely shaking their heads and declaring they have no faith in vaccination. We believe it is the duty of every one, after having first procured good lymph, to lose no time in availing themselves of the advantages of this method of precaution. Additional preventative measures, endorsed by high authority, have been recommended in the shape of certain disinfectants. Carbolic acid has been used with gratifying results. This acid is made by distilling tar at a high temperature, uniting the essential oils with caustic potash and putting it through a process of decomposition. This disinfectant can usually be obtained from the apothecary and should be extensively used, as no harm can result from its proper handling, and much good may be realized by those who make timely use of it. When it cannot be obtained, creosote is said to be a good substitute and can easily be procured Health Officers should be appointed in every community liable to attack and the strictest measures of caution should be adopted to prevent the transmission of the disease by the various lines of travel from place to place. In fact, nothing should be left undone, which, in any degree might prove effectual in checking the progress of the terrible disease throughout the State.

RAILROAD MATTERS.—The Virginia Safeguard, of the 8th, publishes the following:

The Central Pacific Railroad, on last Saturday, had been completed to Mary's Creek, a point 452 miles East from Sacramento, This leaves 205 miles of track yet to be laid by the Central folks to bring them to Monument Point, or Ogden City, at the north end of Salt Lake, the place agreed upon to form a junction with the Western Union line. Of this distance about twenty miles is now ready to receive the ties and rails, and something like sixty more miles partially graded. The graders, since leaving Wadsworth, have kept entirely out of sight of the tracklayers until they reached the big twelve-mile canyon above Gravelly Ford, where some of the heaviest work on the line was encountered. The work of putting down the track, however, was not delayed at this point, for just as the tracklayers hove in sight the graders struck camp and moved out. The country being open to the Eastward, it is thought there will be no more communication between the graders and tracklayers until the whole work is completed. The 1st of March, with favorable weather, is the time set by the managers of the Central Pacific to have their end of the road in running order.

The travel East has not abated in the least, with the near approach of inclement weather. It is a mistaken idea, however, that all the immense travel going East from below stops at White Pine. A gentleman who should know, informs us that not over one-third the persons who go by stage Eastward, from Argenti, put in at White Pine. Since the staging has been cut down to three or four hundred miles, the travel to the Atlantic States per Overland route, has increased immensely, and will continue to do so proportionately as the distance is shortened.

GENERAL COLE AQUITTED.—Gen. Cole has been acquitted of the murder of Hiscock. The jury stated that they found the prisoner to be sane the moment before and the moment after the killing, but were in doubt as to his sanity at the instant of the homicide The Judge said they must give the prisoner the benefit of the doubt. Thus instructed, they rendered a verdict of acquittal.

Bagged His Game.

Under this head the Sonoma Democrat gives rather a sensational account of an arrest recently made in this place. The following is the statement as it appears in that paper of the 5th instant:

Immediately after the daring stage robbery at Windsor, committed a week or so ago, Sheriff Potter determined to hunt the rascals up, although many supposed his search would be fruitless. Proceeding to Windsor, he commenced his work. After making a few enquiries, he became convinced that he was on the right track, and in company with Deputy Sheriff Reynolds, he determined to make it warm for the rascals. From place to place he tracked them, until at last he arrived at Woodland, Yolo county. Here he ascertained that the names of the suspected parties were Harbin, and that they were known in that vicinity as desperate characters, having been repeatedly arrested for various crimes. Further search satisfied the officers that the rascals must be in Woodland. They waited for night to come on, and then resumed their labors. About 11 o'clock they entered a notorious gambling den, where all kinds of games were going on. The room was full of players. After scanning the crowd, Potter discovered the two Harbins playing at one of the tables. As soon as an opportunity was offered, they pounced upon their game, placing a pistol in the face of each one. With such pressure upon them, they thought it best to offer no resistance. They were then searched, and several articles were found upon them that may possibly lead to their identification. At Healdsburg they waved an examination, and were committed to jail, where they are now confined, awaiting the action of the Grand Jury. Sheriff Potter and his assistants deserve great praise for their energy, and if we mistake not, "road agents" in the future, will keep off of "Old Sorrel's" territory.

It is perhaps a pity to spoil a story so nicely told; yet in order that no undue prejudice may be engendered toward the accused, who are supposed to be waiting a fair trial, for the credit of our much abused community, for truth's sake, and not with a desire to diminish the fame of "Old Sorrel," we will briefly state the facts of the case: Sheriff Minis received a dispatch from the Sheriff of Solano county, requesting him to arrest the Harbins on a charge of robbery. They were found, engaged in a "little game," a few minutes after the dispatch was received by Mr. Minis, who quietly informed them of the charge against them, and took them into custody. No arms whatever were used or exhibited in making the arrest, for the reason that the accused were by no means regarded as "desperate characters" in this vicinity. Without any offer of resistance they accompanied the Sheriff to his office, where they remained till morning, it not being considered at all necessary to place them in jail. They have not been "repeatedly arrested for various crimes." On the contrary, we believe but one of them was ever arrested, and he but once, and then upon a charge not sustained in court. On the morning after the arrest Sheriff Minis took his prisoners to Suisun, where he was met by Sheriff Potter, who took them in charge. We have no knowledge of any facts in the case tending to establish the guilt or innocence of the parties accused, but insist that their hearing in court should not be prejudiced by premature mistatements made up into sensational locals for the benefit of "Old Sorrel" or anybody else.

PRETTY GIRLS.—The editor of a San Jose paper claims that town has the prettiest girls in the State. Poor fellow. Ignorance is bliss. If he had ever lived in Nevada City he might be a judge of beauty, but living way down in the cow counties, and talking about pretty girls there! The fellow must be crazy. Probably some little bare-footed, sun-browned girl handed him a cup of water from the spring by the roadside, a la Maud Muller, and he imagined her an angel at once.—[Nevada Gazette.

[SPECIAL TO THE YOLO COUNTY DEMOCRAT.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 11, 1868.

A terrible accident happened here this morning. While some ten or fifteen workingmen were engaged in tearing down the walls of the Railroad House, which were so badly damaged by the late earthquake, the walls fell with a tremendous crash, burying eight or ten men under the ruins and killing six of them instantly.

The weather here continues dry and pleasant; but the health of the city is by no means satisfactory. The number of small-pox cases, according to the Health Officer's report to the Board of Supervisors, was one hundred and seven last week, forty-eight of which resulted fatally.

A number of most influential citizens met yesterday afternoon at the rooms of the Chamber of Commerce to consider what could be done to arrest the further spread of this dreadful disease. A committee of thirteen was appointed by the meeting to report at an adjourned meeting.

The bark Anglo-Saxon, which arrived yesterday from Sydney, brought about fifty tons of seed wheat, known as the white Australian. It is said to produce a larger crop and better grain than any kind ever raised in California. A good chance for Yolo county farmers.

Professor Delessier, of Kingston, (Jamacia), who, a long time in advance, announced the days on which the earthquakes would visit St. Thomas, Chile, Peru, Ecquador, etc., announces that there will be an earthquake in California about the 11th or 12th of December, (to-day.)

A large shipment of grain was received here to-day from Yolo county.

CONGRESSIONAL.

The bill to remove the political disabilities of T. J. Morris, of South Carolina, was passed by the Senate.

Pending the reading of the President's Message, objections were made to a further reading, by Conness and Howe, on the ground that it was offensive and untrue. Leading Radical papers here differ in sentiment with the assertions of the learned gentlemen, and speak of the Message as an able document, worthy of perusal by everybody.

Patronize Home Companies.

There is a feeling innate in the breast of every person that awakens pride in the success of home institutions. In associates and identifies itself with our love of country and attachment to our homes; and the benefit that the Pacific Coast derives from a patronage of home institutions is felt in every department of trade, pervades all the different branches of business—enlarges that which is already established and opens new fields for enterprise and active industry. In patronizing home companies you rely on your own knowledge and are not compelled to take the say so of interested representatives.

In times of disaster and trouble you naturally seek assistance from your friends; you go to those whom you know best, who can and will assist you—apply this principle, acted on every day, to insurance. Is there any country more naturally self-sustaining than the Pacific Coast? why then destroy the vital principle of prosperity, impoverish the country and complain of hard times, when your misfortune is the result of your own action? Would you deposit your money in a bank on this coast or on Wall street? Would you deposit money in a Life Insurance Company on this coast or one in New York? Would you buy Mission blankets or do you prefer sending East—that you may get a better article?

Would you stop the culture of wheat to improve the facilities for the importation of flour? We are all political economists, but that man sets Whately at defiance who exports gold and silver and imports everything else. What has beceme of that $2,000,000 sent East for life insurance last year? is it bringing you 6 per cent. or 15 per cent.? Would $2,000,000 added to the circulation on this coast make any difference in its prosperity? Would it not increase the amount in circulation here one-tenth and enable you to cash those out-standing bills which you long since despaired of collecting?

Is not the Pacific Mutual as responsible as any company in the world? Is it not as liberal as any? Are not the laws of California as careful of the interests of the policyholders as those of any other State? Can you name a company which did the same amount of business in the same time that the Pacific Mutual has done? Do the stockholders of the Pacific Mutual get one-half as much for the management of the affairs of the company and the security which their capital affords as the officers of any purely mutual company which you can name, get for their service as officers without furnishing you any security at all?—[Virginia Safeguard.

A WRETCH.—On the 1st inst., says the Sonoma Democrat, a woman died at the county hospital, named Mary J. Higson, the wife of a wretch in human form, living in Analy township. Her sickness in the first place was caused by a loathsome disease contracted from him, which resulted in her death Several days ago, while he was here to see her, the doctor informed him that his wife would surely die in a few days, when he exclaimed, "Thank God, I will soon be free." No law can reach him, but society should shun him, cast him out and cause him to seek his level amongst the lowest of God's creatures.

NEWSPAPER FOLLY.—The following from the Nevada Gazette will prove beneficial in certain quarters, if there is mind enough to appreciate it:

When we hear newspapers praising themselves in their own columns, and making a parade of their ability and influence, we may safely calculate upon two things: They are wanting in brains and public support. If a newspaper is truly meritorious, people will be quite sure to find it out without any self-laudations. Egotism in a public journal is more insufferable and detestable than in the individual man.

FOUND DEAD.—William H. Swift, who was lost two weeks ago in the mountains near San Leandro, was found dead on Sunday last.

THE MESSAGE.—The President's Message to the Senate and House of Representatives, delivered in Congress on the 9th inst., has been published throughout the State and has generally been made the subject of favorable comment. The document is unquestionably an able one, and is worthy of careful perusal. It is too lengthy to admit of publication in our colums. The President closes his Message in the earnest hope that an All Wise Providence will so guide the counsels of the nation as to strengthen and preserve the Federal Union, insure reverence for the Constitution, and restore prosperity and happiness to the whole people.

SCARCITY OF MONEY.—The scarcity of money in the community has often been commented upon within the past two months. The earthquake, betting on elections, and the retention of grain in the hands of the farmers, have all contributed to this result.—[Oakland Transcript.

Why don't you send up here and get some? There are several hundred thousand in Sacramento you can have as well as not.—[Sac. Bee.

Editors don't need money. Give it to the poor.

STATE TREASURY.—The money in the Treasury was counted on Monday last by the Governor and Secretary of State The amount on hand—gold and silver, $1,045,933. Greenbacks $122,593 50. Total, $1,167,617.

PRACTICAL JOKING.—Several Woodlanders went hunting this week on Putah creek, in the vicinity of Davisville. One of them, whom we will designate as "Doctor," a fun-loving individual, returned before his companions and seriously related to a breathless crowd that A. Hare, who had always been considered a harmless and inoffensive individual, had been shot and instantly killed, two miles from Davisville, by H——, one of the hunting party which left town in the morning. R——, a bystander, a good friend of H——, heard the story in astonishment, and immediately started out for the scene of blood, twelve miles away, where he found that a hare had really been killed, but no murder had been committed. R—— acknowledged himself badly sold, but determined to get even on somebody, which he did by telegraphing to the stage proprietor here that Johnny B——, his driver, had got shot, and another driver was wanted. "Doc" sent another driver, who on his arrival at Davisville found Johnny B— in good health. "I thought," said he, "you got shot." "So I did," said Johnny, "I got a pound at Dresbach's store."

WOODLAND AND DAVISVILLE STAGE LINE.—Having been invited by our genial friend "Doc" Tucker, proprietor of the Woodland and Davisville Stage Line, to accompany him over the route, we accepted the invitation, and at 5 A. M. on Monday last secured a seat in one of his best thorough-braces. The road was in excellent condition, the morning pleasant, and the team a spirited one, driven by Johnny Beardslee, a knight of the whip who is never "too late for the cars." Timid passengers were politely requested to "keep their seats," and assured that no harm should befal them. The team sped away at a rate known only in the annals of California staging. The trip was made in good time, giving one a good appetite for breakfast which was heartily enjoyed at the Yolo House. The return trip in the evening was equally agreeable. This line carries the Express matter of Wells, Fargo & Co. and the Union Pacific Co. It is well patronized and will continue to prosper while in the hands of its present proprietor and drivers.

SMALL-POX.—Various rumors of the existence of this loathsome disease in our midst have been circulated, causing some apprehension, but all such reports are without doubt entirely groundless. We have been informed by the principal physicians in town that there is not, nor has there been a case of anything resembling the dreaded disease in town. Situated as we are, however, it does not follow that strict measures of precaution should not be at once adopted.

PETITION.—A petition is being extensively circulated throughout the county, praying the Legislature of this State to pass an act directing the Supervisors of Yolo county to issue one hundred 20-year 7 per cent. gold bonds of one thousand dollars each, and deliver the same to the proper officers of the California Pacific Railroad Company, on condition that said Company shall extend their road from Davisville through Woodland to Knight's Landing before the 1st day of December, 1869.

BENEFIT BALL.—The party given on Thursday night for the benefit of Spring Lake School District, was a success. Quite a crowd was in attendance, and, in keeping with the melody of excellent music, every thing went as "merry as a marriage bell." The supper was prepared at Gover's Restaurant, and was generally conceded to have been the most elegant and tastily arranged ball supper ever before given in Woodland.

CHANGED IN APPEARANCE.—Several valuable and attractive improvements have recently been made on Ray's block, adjoining the "old grade." The Doctor has fitted up several neat and convenient buildings for business houses and dwellings, some of which are for rent. The improvements which have been made in that vicinity have wrought a wonderful change in the appearance of that part of town.

SUCCESSFUL HUNTING.—John D. Stephens, accompanied by a friend, went hunting last week on Cottonwood, near John Barrett's, and in one afternoon killed about two hundred quail. One hundred and twenty of the number were sent by Mr. Stephens to his daughter Kate, who is attending a female school in Sacramento, and who generously divided the present with her school-mates, giving a pair to each one.

NICE ARRANGEMENT.—Dr. H. J. Plomteaux, who for many years has given his attention exclusively to the department of dentistry, has recently refitted his office in Templar Hall, and it now presents a model of neatness and convenience scarcely equalled in any town in the State. The Doctor has been eminently successful in his practice.

DAVISVILLE.—Improvements in Davisville are going rapidly forward and quite a number of substantial buildings are being erected. Some difficulty has been experienced in obtaining a sufficient number of mechanics. Davisville is the liveliest station on the route of the California Pacific Railroad.

FLORENCE.—Mrs. Mary A. Sheldon, traveling agent for the Florence Sewing Machine, will be at the Hunter House on Monday next, where she will remain until the 21st. Those having Florence Machines which need repairs can have them put in perfect order, free of expense. Mrs. Sheldon's card will be seen in another column.

LARGE BULK OF WHEAT.—In the two large store houses of Wm. Dresbach, at Davisville, there are four thousand five hundred tons of wheat, a superior quality, waiting shipment.

MESSRS. P. H. DRAKE & Co. proprietors of the PLANTATION BITTERS, are said to be the largest importers of St. Croix Rum and Calisaya Bark in America. The rum imported by this firm is all used in the preparation of their Bitters and is manufactured under the immediate supervision of one of their agents upon leased plantations upon the Island of St. Thomas. Over nine thousand puncheons, about one million gallons, is used annually for their bitters alone. The Calisaya bark is all imported from Brazil, and is also gathered and selected by the natives, under the supervision of an agent sent out for that purpose. The cures produced by these bitters are wonderful. *

INTERESTING EXERCISES.—At a meeting of the Band of Hope last Sunday afternoon in Templar Hall, the exercises were of a very interesting character. The "Temperance Banner," a manuscript paper edited by W. H. Ludden, and Miss A. Hurlburt, was read by the editress in a very creditable manner, and elicited deserved applause. The paper does honor to the organization, which seems to be in a prosperous condition. A number of new names were added to the roll of membership during the meeting.

FORTUNATE ESCAPE.—On Monday last a hod-carrier named Jerry Canty, while working on the Masonic Hall, fell from a scaffold twenty feet high, passing down between the joists of two floors and landing in the cellar. He escaped with a few bruises and a big scare.

DECEASED.—Henry Wunderli died at his residence, eight miles west from Woodland, on the 7th inst. He was an old settler and much respected. His disease was congestion of the lungs. He was a native of Switzerland, aged 47 years.

TEMPERANCE LECTURES.—"Brown of Yonkers," who has acquired a reputation as a temperance lecturer, is at present making a tour through this county. He will lecture at various points, and will no doubt be well received.

COUNTY WARRANTS.—Holders of County Warrants are referred to the advertisement of the County Treasurer, who will redeem all warrants designated in his notice.

CHRISTMAS BALL.—A. S. House will open his new hotel by a grand ball, to be given on Christmas night, the 25th inst.

ELECTRO SILICON.—This curious and valuable substance is confidently claimed to be the BEST ARTICLE ever discovered for cleaning and polishing Gold, Silver and Plated Ware, and all smooth metallic surfaces, of whatever description, including kitchen utensils of tin, copper, brass, steel, etc.

TO HEADS OF FAMILIES.—Are your little ones subject to croup? If so, don't fail to use NEWELL'S PULMONARY SYRUP. A few doses given in time MAY SAVE THE LIFE OF A DARLING CHILD. Do not fail to have it on hand, if you would be safe and free from anxiety.

"IN TIME OF PEACE PREPARE FOR WAR."—So get a bottle of DR. E. COOPER'S UNIVERSAL MAGNETIC BALM, an unequalled preparation for Dysentery, Diarrhœa and Cramp. The instantaneous relief for Burns, Bruises and Sprains.

Tribute of Respect.

Resolutions passed by Woodland Lodge No. 156 F. and A. M., November 27th, 1868, expressive of their regard for their late Brother, G. A. FABRICIUS, who for a long time had been Secretary:

"The ways of God are mysterious and past finding out." Bro. G. A. FABRICIUS is not with us!—he has gone to rest from his labors. In all the relations of social life—as husband, brother, friend—he discharged his duties as became a good man—a good MASON.

The good never die; they but sleep, to wake on a finer morn in a brighter world.

WHEREAS: In earth-life we have been deprived of the labor of Bro. G. A. FABRICIUS, and are called upon to mourn his loss from among us—and this to his family is irreparable—therefore

Resolved, That our kindest sympathy be extended to her, who has been bereft of one near and dear, in this her hour of sorrow. May she be "sheltered beneath the shadows of His wings." We are glad to believe that she hath no need to weep as they who have no hope, for we know that his "trust" was in God. Death to him was not dark and gloomy. He well could receive him as a kind messenger sent from our Supreme Grand Master, to translate him from this imperfect, to that all-perfect, glorious and celestial Lodge above, where the Supreme Architect of the Universe presides.

Resolved, That the usual badge of mourning be worn by the members of this Lodge for thirty days.

Further Resolved, That these resolutions be spread in full upon the "Book," and that a copy be sent to the widow of our late Brother.

STOP THAT COUGHING.

Some of you can't, and we pity you. You have tried every remedy but the ONE destined, by its intrinsic merit, to supersede all similar preparations. It is not surprising you should be reluctant to try something else after the many experiments you have made of trashy compounds foisted on the public as a certain cure; but is really the VERY BEST remedy ever compounded for the cure of coughs, colds, sore throat, Asthma, Whooping-cough, Bronchitis and Consumption. Thousands of people in California and Oregon have been already benefitted by the surprising curative powers of

and with one accord give it their unqualified approbation. We now address ourselves to all who are unacquainted with this, the greatest Panacea of the age, for the healing of all diseases of the Throat and Lungs, assuring you that has cured thousands, and it will cure YOU if you try it.

This invaluable medicine is pleasant to the taste; soothing, healing and strengthening in its effects; entirely free from all poisonous or deleterious drugs, and perfectly harmless under all circumstances.

Certificates from many prominent citizens of San Francisco accompany every bottle of

This valuable preparation, containing in a highly concentrated form all the properties of Jamaica Ginger, has become one of the most popular domestic remedies for all diseases of the stomach and digestive organs.

As a tonic, it will be found invaluable to all persons recovering from debility, whether produced by fever, or otherwise; for while it imparts to the system all the glow and vigor that can be produced by wine or brandy, it is entirely free from the reactionary effects that follow the use of spirits of any kind.

It is also an excellent remedy for females who suffer from difficult menstruation, giving almost immediate relief to the spasms that so frequently accompany that period.

It gives immediate relief to Nausea, caused by riding in a railroad car, or by sea-sickness, or other causes.

It is also valuable as an external application for Gout, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, etc.

The Reasons for Insuring

— IN THE —

NEW ENGLAND MUTUAL

Life Insurance Company,

OF BOSTON.

By the Acts of Massachusetts, incorporated into the General Statutes of 1860 and 1864, a Policy of Life Insurance for the benefit of a Married Woman, or any person or persons specified, goes to them independently of the debts and liabilities of the party who effects the policy.

An Act to Regulate the Forfeiture of Policies of Life Insurance.

Be it Enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1.—No Policy of Insurance on Life, hereafter issued by any Company chartered by the authority of this Commonwealth, shall be forfeited or become void by the non-payment of premium thereon, any further than regards the right of the party insured therein to have it continued in force beyond a certain period, to be determined as follows, to-wit: The net value of the policy, when the premium becomes due and is not paid, shall be ascertained, according to the "combined experience" or "actuaries'" rate of mortality, with interest at four per cent. per annum. After deducting from such net value any indebtedness to the company or notes held by the company against the insured, which notes if given for premium shall then be canceled, four-fifths of what remains shall be considered as a net single premium of temporary insurance, and the term for which it will insure shall be determined according to the age of the party at the time of the lapse of the premium, and the assumptions of mortality and interest aforesaid.

SECTION 2.—If the death of the party occur within the term of temporary insurance covered by the value of the policy, as determined in the previous section, and if no condition of the insurance, other than the payment of premium shall have been violated by the insured, the company shall be bound to pay the amount of the policy the same as if there had been no lapse of premium, anything in the policy to the contrary notwithstanding: provided, however, that notice of the claim and proof of the death shall be submitted to the company within ninety days after decease; and provided, also, that the company shall have the right to deduct from the amount insured in the policy the amount at six per cent. per annum of the premiums that had been forborne at the time of the death.

Kissing.

Men scorn to kiss among themselves,
And scarce would kiss a brother,
But women want to kiss so badly
They kiss and kiss each other.

A LADY REPLIES:

Men do not kiss among themselves,
Its well that they refrain;
The bitter dose would vex them so
They ne'er would kiss again.

A GENTLEMAN traveling through one of the rural precincts of a certain county, rode up to a farm-house, and thus accosted a tow-headed urchin who was seated on the top of a gate-post: "Bub, where's your pa?" The youngster replied: "Papa's just down there beyant the cowshed to dig a grave to bury our old dog Towser. The darned old fool killed himself a-barkin' at candidates for Sheriff. Be you one?" Our friend rode on.

THE excentric Elder S——n, Baptist preacher, once said from the pulpit: "They say there is no such thing as family government now-a-days. But there is—I tell you there is—just as much as there ever was; but" (leaning over the pulpit, and lowering his voice into a quiet, confidential tone,) "the difference is, when I grew up, the old folks governed the young folks, but now, the young folks govern the old folks.

A SHARP student was called by the worthy professor of a celebrated college, and asked the question: "Can a man see without eyes?" "Yes, SIR," was the prompt answer. "How, sir," cried the amazed Professor, "can a man see without eyes? Pray, sir, how do you make that out?" "He can see with one, sir," replied the ready-witted youth; and the whole class shouted with delight at the triumph over metaphysics.

"SONNY, do you love me any?" "Oh, don't I though!" "What for?" "Because you always bring me candy when you come to see Sissy Jane. Give me some more." "And what does Sissy Jane love me for?" "Oh, cause you take her to concerts, and give her so many nice things. She says, so long as you are fool enough to bring her shawls and bonnets, she won't sack you, no how. Now, give me some more candy."

CHARLES DICKENS is said to be going to take his own life in hand. If he is wise he won't dispatch himself in a hurry. In his case the pen is certainly mightier than the sword, and the shedding of ink is preferable to that of blood. He will of course, however, play the Dickens with himself generally.

THERE is a funny fellow who announces his intention to publish a paper called The Comet, with a new tale every week. He will hardly be able to come it, unless he contracts with Chinese authors, who can supply him with tales out of their own hands. Has he discovered the cue?

"How do you like the character of St. Paul?" asked a parson of his landlady, during a conversation about the apostles. "Ah! he was a good old soul, for he once said, you know, that we must eat what is set before us, and ask no questions, for conscience's sake. I always should like him for a boarder."

"AN unloved wife," who ought to know of that which she speaks, because she has had so much experience, says that the reason ladies look so much to money in the matter of marriage, is, that now-a-days they so seldom find anything else in a man worth having.

THE Prince of Wales is reported to be growing bald and gray. Which would he rather be? That's the question. He has one consolation, however, which should be considered a compensation for a hairless monarch—when he goes bare-headed the people will be better able to see his crown.

A NUMBER of enterprising Americans, it is said, will soon go to China to teach the Celestials a thing or two in business. It is said they intend to start some railroads there and infuse new life into the slow-go-motives of the Chinese by American locomotives.

HUMAN ENDURANCE.—A woman was lately, by mistake, shut in the vaults of a small village church in Sweden, where she remained eleven days. When found she merely asked for some water, and being treated with great care, perfectly recovered in a few days.

AT school at Wallsend, near Newcastle, England, the master asked a class of boys the meaning of the word "appetite," when, after a short pause, one little boy said: "I know, sir. When I'm eatin' I'm 'appy, and when I'm done I'm tight."

A CONDUCTOR of a newspaper, speaking of a contemporary, says: "He was formerly a member of Congress, but rapidly rose till he obtained a respectable position as editor—a noble example of perseverance under depressing circumstances."

"MADAM," said an old gentleman to his housekeeper, "in primitive countries beef is often legal tender; but," said he, emphatically thrusting his fork into the steak, "all the law in Christendom could not make this beef tender."

OCULISTS say that winking endangers the sight. Young men, when out on the street among the pretty girls, should bear in mind this important fact, and to mind their eye at the same time.

Two rival belles met at a hop: "How well you look under candle-light!" exclaimed one, with a stress on the candle. "And how charming you are in the dark!" quickly answered the other.

WHAT is the difference between a drummer boy and a pound of meat? One weighs a pound, and the other pounds away.

"CAN'T you trust me, Mr. Butcher, for a little meat this morning?" "No; you owe me for that already on your bones.

A COLD CUT—the cat you give an acquaintance; colder than the mutton shoulder tossed to the mendicant at your back door.

WHEN your wife is silent, hold the baby for her; perhaps it is as much as she can do to hold her tongue.

WHY is a man with a squint one of the greatest anomalies? Because he's a man who sees as cant.

How to get at the real complexion of some ladies—take a little soap and water.

WHY is a mouse like a load of hay? Because the cat'll eat it.

A HANDSOME dress pattern never arrests a woman's attention. She will always go buy it.

THE attempt to apply the force of circumstances as a motive power has proved a failure.

IT requires greater virture to support good than bad fortune.

—THE NEW—

WEED SEWING MACHINE!

Just completed, in SOLID STEEL MACHINERY, and combining in ONE the good of ALL!

This most enterprising Company has certainly brought out

THE BEST SEWING MACHINE EVER MADE!

And indeed is the ONLY NEW Sewing Machine, of any name, manufactured for the last eight years. Even a superficial observer can easily see that it surpasses all others, at least in the simplicity and durability of its machinery, and its remarkable EASE OF MOTION AND MANAGEMENT.

It has few pieces, and all of steel. It makes the complete "Lock Stitch," the same on both sides, which will not ravel. Every Machine is warranted to sew from and of course can never be got out of order by "hard sewing." ☞ All repairs free of charge. Prices same as others.

PLEASE NOTICE.

The claims of the Florence Company for the First Premium at the great Paris Exposition of 1867, though seeming true in letter, is really false in spirit and intent, and calculated greatly to deceive the public. Although it did receive the Silver Medal—that being the highest award given—it was not awarded the FIRST RANK! This was awarded the Weed Sewing Machine, and to the WEED only, as being "first in the order of merit." The second place was given to an European Machine, and only the third to the Florence! But the claim of the Wheeler & Wilson Company, at this Fair, is a great outrage, both as to letter and spirit; at least so much of it as pertains to their Gold Medal upon their Family Machine, which, to speak plain, is purely imaginary, they having received—as is well known—their Gold Medal on their "Button-hole Machine," but nothing at all on their "Family Machine;" not even a bronze medal, nor indeed (what is worse) even an "honorable mention." (See official report.) See also, as to the new WEED Sewing Machine, the returns of the State Fairs of Pennsylvania, Illinois, New Hampshire and New York, for 1867, at each of which the NEW WEED "F. F." Sewing Machine was pronounced the BEST, and received the highest premium given. And so also at other Fairs, and indeed wherever the Company shall choose to exhibit the "strong points" of this really magnificent Machine.

SEWING MACHINE!

Over 82 Competitors,

—AT THE—

Great Paris Exposition, 1867,

Being the highest honors and all the Gold Medals awarded to any Sewing Machine Company at this Exposition.

As a HOLIDAY  Present, Nothing will be more appreciated THAN ONE OF these MACHINES.

America, England and France, now unite in this grand Proclamation:

Good news! good news the cable brings,
O'er all the wires it flies,
Wheeler & Wilson's sewing machine
Brings back the golden prize.

Our "Uncle Sam" first struck the note,
"John Bull" then caught the sound;
Now comes from France the echo back,
Wheeler & Wilson's crowned.

And now, no more the people doubt,
So long its stood the test—
The thing is fairly noised about
And they will buy the best.

A FEW SELECTIONS

From a Mass of Testimony now on File.

NEWARK, Licking Co., Ohio, August 19th, 1867.

Messrs. HOSTETTER & SMITH—Gents:—My wife having received so much benefit from the use of your Bitters, I deem it my duty to give testimony in their favor. About one and a half years since, she had a severe attack of Dysentery or Bloody Flux, which became chronic and continued for the above period of time, baffling the most skillful physicians in the country. We finally became discouraged, and gave up all hopes of her recovery, when, by accident my attention was called to your most valuable Bitters by Messrs. Collins & Thurston, druggists, handing me one of your Almanacs. Finding them recommended for Bloody Flux, I bought one bottle and commenced giving according to directions; and before one-third of the bottle had been taken she was entirely cured, and enjoys perfectly good health at this time.

Most respectfully yours, W. D. NUTTER.

BRANCHVILLE, Ala., March 11th, 1867.

Messrs. Hostetter & Smith, Pittsburgh, Pa.—Dear Sirs: I am hardly able to express my gratitude for the benefit I have derived from the use of your Stomach Bitters. I have been afflicted with Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia for more than five years, from which I have suffered no little. My physicians failed to give me permanent relief. I became melancholy and unhappy; my constitution was much broken down by using mercury. Accidentally meeting with one of your Almanacs, it induced me to procure a few bottles of your Bitters, which afforded me very great relief, and it is my sincere opinion that they will soon effect a permanent cure. I was pronounced incurable, and my recovery through your Bitters will be little short of a miracle. My neighbors express surprise at seeing me so much improved in health, and look upon my rapid recovery as wonderful. Gratefully yours, ROBERT F. NEWTON, P. M.

TURNER, Androscoggin Co., Me., Feb. 22, 1867.

Messrs. Hostetter & Smith—Gents: I lost my health in the army, am a great sufferer from dyspepsia and other complaints. I have commenced taking your Bitters, and fully believe they have done me more good than all the medicines I have ever taken before. Yours respectfully, B. J. HOOD.

CINCINNATI, Jan. 16, 1867.

Messrs. Hostetter & Smith, Pittsburgh, Pa.—Gents: I have sold your Bitters for the past ten years, part of the time in a malarious district of Mississippi. Have used them myself as a protective and cure for chills, and I have known many others to do so with perfect satisfaction. I take great pleasure in recommending "Hostetter's Stomach Bitters" to the public. Very respectfully, A. G. PARKER,
Of Parker & Yorstman, cor. Center ave. and Chestnut street.

HELENA, Montana Territory, July 6, 1867.

Messrs. Hostetter & Smith, Pittsburgh, Pa.—Gents: We have sold your Bitters for three years in this Territory, and can truly say it is one of the most popular and valuable remedies. There is no one preparation that has a larger sale, or that gives more general satisfaction in this locality. Yours, &c.,

PARCHEN & PAYNTER, Druggists.

CHENOA, Ill., Oct. 25, 1867.

Messrs. Hostetter & Smith—Gents: We have sold your Bitters for 16 years. We have found it to give universal satisfaction. We sell more of it than any other Bitters, and take pleasure in recommending it to the public.

Yours respectfully, MILLER & BOSTOCK.

SPRAKER'S BASIN, July 19th, 1867.

Messrs. Hostetter & Smith—Gents: I have been afflicted with Scrofulous and Bilious Complaints for a long time, and physicians could give me no relief. By the advice of your agent I purchased a bottle of your Stomach Bitters, and, strange to say, one bottle cured me entirely. I would recommend it to all who are afflicted in the same way. Respectfully yours, SALMON ALLEN.

SALEM, Ohio, May 1, 1867.

Messrs. Hostetter & Smith—Gents: I have prescribed your Bitters in a great number of cases of Dyspepsia, and as a Tonic in cases of general debility, and have found it to answer the most sanguine expectations. Respectfully, S. D. HARDMAN, M. D.,

Formerly Physician to the Cincinnati Marine Hospital. Member of the London Medical Society of Observation, &c.

P. S.—I send you the above voluntarily, and you may use it as you desire.

SPRAKER'S BASIN, July 29th, 1867.

Messrs. Hostetter & Smith—Gents: For the past two years I have been afflicted with Chronic Disease and weak stomach. I have tried a great many medicines, but I have received no benefit. I was at last advised to try your celebrated Stomach Bitters, and to my great astonishment it has entirely relieved me. I have recommended it to others, and it has always given perfect satisfaction. JOEL O'BRIEN.

The above writer is personally known to me, and I can vouch for the correctness of his statement. HENRY COHEN, Postmaster, Spraker's Basin.

ANDERSON C. H., S. C., April 22, 1867.

Messrs. Hostetter & Smith, Pittsburgh, Pa.—Gents: About the 15th of December last, I had a severe attack of Rheumatism, which debilitated my frame so much that I was reduced to a mere skeleton. I was recommended by my cousin J. J. Baker, to try a bottle of your celebrated Bitters. I did so, and must confess that I am now in good health, and attribute it entirely to your Genuine Bitters. Very truly yours, JOHN DAVIS, jr.

KENTON, Hardin Co., Ohio, March 8, 1867.

Messrs. Hostetter & Smith—Gents: I have been using your Bitters for the last ten or twelve years, and confidently say they are all you recommend them to be. So necessary have I found them to my health that I cannot do without them. Yours respectfully, LEWIS A. MILLER.

VIRGINIA CITY, Montana Ter., July 6, 1867.

Messrs. Hostetter & Smith, Pittsburgh, Pa.—Gents: I have been severely afflicted with Heartburn and Dyspepsia, and have tried almost all remedies, but without avail. Finally I was recommended to try your Stomach Bitters. I did so, and, after using a few bottles was entirely restored to health. I now weigh 180 pounds.

I still continue to take your Bitters, and would not be without them. I consider them the only efficacious remedy of the kind in the market. When taken as directed, they will always prove a sovereign remedy to those afflicted with Dyspepsia or diseases of a like nature. Respectfully yours, M. MARX.

Messrs. Hostetter & Smith—Gents—It is with the greatest pleasure that I recommend your Stomach Bitters to the public. I think it the best Bitters of the day. It is especially adapted to the South and West, where biliary derangements of the liver are prevalent. Ten years' experience in the use of compounds as curatives compels me to give your Bitters the preference that its popularity merits.

A. ANGLE, M. D.

GALLATIA, Saline Co., Ill.

Messrs. Hostetter & Smith—Gentlemen—I have practiced medicine for many years, and have used your Bitters in a number of cases with great success, and take pleasure in recommending them to the public in general.

Very respectfully, J. SMITH, M. D.

MATTOON, Ill., Jan. 21, 1865.

Messrs. Hostetter & Smith—Gentlemen—I sell more of your Stomach Bitters than of any other medicine. Parties who have tried them speak in very high praise of their excellent virtues. I have used them myself, and prescribe them with unparalleled success. Very respectfully yours, G. T. GILNER, M. D.

N. B.—The genuine Bitters are sold in bottles only. All persons who pretend to sell the article by the gallon or barrel are imposters, and the stuff they offer is a worthless and probably poisonous counterfeit.
